The Brave Sentinels of Seabeck 200 Jack O'Lanterns Stood the Night Watch

Suzanne Arkless, Founder, Organizer and Sponsor of Make Seabeck Glow — assisted by her daughter, Sondra Anderson and Katie Smith of Hood Canal Vintage Design — thanks local artisans — young and old — who once again eerily illuminated the Seabeck boardwalk with their prize-worthy pumpkins on October 31, 2021.

This fifth year added an uncarved category to the mix, with the general public serving as judges by voting for their 24 favorites. Winners collected their prizes at the Water's Edge Building in Seabeck. This large army of gourds was divided into three Groups: A, B and C. The winners follow:

🎃 Scary A: Molly LaLiberte, Chance Klaahsen B: Carter Vickerman, Ava Fischer C: Kimberly Murphy, Stacy Hopkis 🎃 Funny A: Kameha Smith, Wyatt LaLiberte B: Keely Schafer, Gabe Mauer C: Yvonne Kaiser, Jamie Keil 🎃 Original A: Chase Vikeman, Keoni Smith B: Kolin Smith, Judy Gratrix C: Kinsey Soderstrum, Sonja Choate 🎃 Uncarved/Other A: Blake Fisher, Hallie Scott B: Katie Smith, Samantha Schofield C: Kris Hushby, Sean McBrinn.

Spotlight on SCC Helpers

If you noticed the crisp, even rows of vehicles at the Seabeck Community Center (SCC) this summer, then you might have seen Garry L. Thompson who said he enjoys helping out in order to return "his good fortune to the community." Our traffic control specialist for the six Seabeck Community Markets estimated a 350-person average attendance.

Thompson, retired jeweler of 47 years, knows how to treat your cars and trucks like true gems. A seven-time international jewelry design award winner, he also was voted the Best Jeweler in Kitsap County five times. Spending his final quarter of a century as one of three Master Jewelers in the Northwest, he ended his career at Dahlquist Fine Jewelry in Poulsbo. "I was dynamite with a laser beam — like the song says," Thompson cooed. Our Seabeckian was the go-to jewelry answer man for museums, corporations and estates for hard-to-fix or damaged items, or unidentifiable stones.

Over 30 Vendors; Over 2,000 Shoppers

Seabeck Community Market Puts the SCC on the Map

Marla Wilson, on behalf of the entire Seabeck Community Market Team, thanked the musicians — The Wind Jammers, John Millman, Jason Putman — along with four teen pageant-winner storytellers and firetruck owners John and Michele Hawkins on Children’s Day, and the below-listed vendors who made the inaugural 2021 season a roaring success. She looks ahead to sunshine in our hearts come spring when the Market recommences April 3, 2022.

Wilson warms our winter with the words of Robert Louis Stevens: Don’t judge each day by the harvest you reap but by the seeds you plant.

She reminds vendors and musicians to check out the Market’s Facebook page: Seabeck Community Market. Vendors can anticipate renting booths sometime in March.

SCC Board Dreams Big for 2022

In 2022 the SCC Board is hoping to eventually spearhead the development of an outdoor vegetable garden, landscape the front of the building, relocate the flagpole and the historic school plaque, open a scheduled community fix-it shop, host a hobby/craft and card/board game events, facilitate fitness courses and wellness presentations, execute a fundraising rummage sale, celebrate with a member's barbeque, and more.

Be a part of the dream by completing the interest survey located under membership at seabeckcc.org.
